April

2005-2006

At the beginning of the Passover Seder we are instructed to open our doors and recite, "Let all who are hungry -- come and eat. All who are needy -- come and join the Passover celebration."

Nowadays, most of us do not live in places where we can open our doors and find a stranger waiting to be fed. We say these lines from the Haggadah as a matter of habit, harkening back to a time when Jews lived in close proximity to one another and where people in search of a meal may very well have been wandering around outside. This year I ask that you take these lines seriously. After all, being a stranger and being in need is at the essence of what Passover is all about.

Forty five times in the Torah, more than any other commandment, we are told, "and you shall love the stranger, for you too were strangers in the land of Egypt." During the Passover Seder we remind ourselves that we were once not only strangers, but slaves, treated harshly by the Egyptians. We relive the experience of the Hebrew slaves, so as to ensure that we always have empathy for the "other," and that no matter our own situation, we are never the cause of another human beings suffering.

More than this though, our tradition teaches us to stand up for the rights of the downtrodden and open our hearts and our doors to those in need. How many times in our history have we cried out to the world and been ignored?

On April 30th, five days after Yom Hashoah, Holocaust Memorial Day, a rally is scheduled in Washington DC between 2-4 PM to stop the genocide in Darfur. For those of you are not aware, a genocide is occurring in the Southern Sudan. At least 2 million people have been displaced, and hundreds of thousands killed for no other reason than their race and religion. The Sudanese government has actively promoted a policy of destroying Darfur's non-Arab or African tribal populations.

The rally is part of the "Million Voices for Darfur" campaign to generate one million postcards for delivery to President Bush. A broad spectrum of prominent faith leaders, political figures, human rights activists, celebrities, survivors of the Holocaust and genocides in Cambodia, Kosovo, Srebrenica, Rwanda, South Sudan and Darfur, will be there to raise awareness of the situation.

We must pressure our government to take action to stop the bleeding. The rallying cry for this gathering is "Not on My Watch." I would encourage you to go to jrf.org or savedarfur.org to find out more and sign a postcard. There will also be busses going from the Philadelphia area if anyone is interested in coming that Sunday.

On this Passover, let us remember that slaves still exist in our world and that promoting freedom can be as simple as opening our doors and inviting in the stranger.

B'shalom, Rabbi Alex

"Parking on grassy area"

Many of us park on the grassy area next to the synagogue - those brave enough to risk losing a muffler. However, please do not park on this area when the ground is wet. It leaves deep ruts on the ground that have to be fixed and reseeded.

Tot Shabbat News

Tot Shabbat will meet on March 31 from 6:00-7:30 p.m. to celebrate Shabbat and learn about Passover. Following our pot luck dinner and abbreviated service, the children will hear a Passover story and make a special frog craft. Tot Shabbat will meet again on April 28 when we learn about Israel, May 19 when we celebrate Lag B'Omer, and our last Tot Shabbat of the year will be June 9 when we learn about the Torah.

For more information about Tot Shabbat or to join our pot luck RSVP list, please speak to Rabbi Alex or call Sharon Dauber 291-9169. In addition, if there is anyone who would be interested in contributing or leading a craft idea or story reading we would love to hear from you. Sharon Dauber

Teen Group News

The teen group that joins young people from TBA, JCCBM and String of Pearls in Princeton continues to be active. On March 11, they attended a student performance of "Parade" at Princeton University. Upcoming events include rock climbing on April 8 and volunteering to serve food at the Trenton Area Soup Kitchen on April 17. Please mark your calendars for Friday, May 12, when Temple B'nai Abraham will be hosting the teen group members and their families at a shabbat service.

Social Action News

Congratulations to the Hebrew School students for raising $263.00 at their Purim Carnival for social action and tzedakah! In May, the Hebrew and Sunday School students will make sandwiches and put together bag lunches for the soup kitchen, with food purchased from money they raised.

Our food collection for the local food pantry as well as for the monthly grocery bag delivery is continuing well, thanks to the generosity of our members. Once a month we will deliver boxes of granola bars to contribute to the joint local congregational effort to supply needy families in the area with extra food. Please keep those donations coming!

On MONDAY, APRIL 17 the teen group will be volunteering at the Trenton Area Soup Kitchen from 10:30 to 1:00. The Bordentown Regional School District does not have school that day, but some of the other districts do. Please call Marcy if you would like to help that day, as we might need a couple of adult volunteers to fill in.

Passover Community Seder

We did not receive any volunteers for a chairperson for the Community Seder this year. Therefore, there will not be a Second Seder at the Temple. Passover is about opening our doors to let strangers in. This year might be the time to open your door to any of our Temple/Sisterhood members who have no family to celebrate the holiday and need a place to go the second night. Call Betsy Ramos (298-0437 or bramos@capehart.com) if you either need a place to go the second night or you are willing to host one of those families.

RELIGIOUS ITEMS BURIAL

No doubt we all have old kippot, prayer books and what ever else sitting in our homes. I am often asked what should be done with them? The proper course of action is to bury them in a cemetery. If you have any of these, please place them in a small box labeled "TO SID: FOR BURIAL". Place the box in the temple (or better yet, drop it off at my house: 849 East Drive Bordentown -- leave it by the BACK door). Once I get a large enough accumulation, I will bring it to Rabbi Leverton of the Chabad of the Windsor for burial. In the past he has handled this for us.

On the kippot: The rule is, once it has been used, it must be buried. If a kippah has never been used it may be thrown out.

On books: Nowadays with recycling, one might think that it would be better to place the books with our paper recycling. I did raise this point to a couple of rabbis. All stated that the books must be buried.

A Message from Sid Morginstin

Per proper etiquette, I should thank each person or family individually in writing for donations made on my behalf for this honor. Please excuse this lapse in etiquette and permit me to publicly thank all. Also let me express the thanks of Charyl and myself for the ad in the Bonei Kehilla booklet.

.A special thank you goes to Robin Affirme for the kind words in the last newsletter. However, I would be remiss if I did not amend one item. Rabbi Leverton of the Chabad of the Windsor assisted with the Torah. He aided me in the selection and picked the Torah up (in Brooklyn) when it was ready.

SARAH SEIDEL SISTERHOOD

We are waiting for remittance from members who have not yet paid for Chanukah cards. Send to Rita Nissim at 5 Germantown Rd Bordentown NJ 08505.

Remember the cookbook.....

Please submit your recipes for the upcoming Sisterhood cookbook! Both members and non-members are welcome to participate. In fact, the more the better! Just remember to submit kosher recipes (no meat & milk, no pork or shellfish). Also, don't forget your favorite Passover recipe.

Thank you to everyone who participated in our discussion with Womanspace. This is a fantastic organization in our community that helps women and their children get the help and support they need when dealing with an abusive situation. The needs of Womanspace vary from household items (dishes, cleaners, linens, etc.) to clothing for women and children (underwear, socks, jeans, work clothes, etc.) to personal items (hair conditioner, feminine hygiene, etc.) to children's needs (books, cd players, games). They welcome donations of new items and ask that used items be donated to the Trenton Rescue Mission in their name,. A special thanks to Bonnie Goldman and Rhea Goldman for hosting our meeting and to our guest speaker Paula Figeroa-Vega. The next Sisterhood meeting will be May 8th.
